

Anglican Historical Society (NZ)
Te Rōpu Hītori te Hāhi Mihinare ki Aotearoa

Occasional Papers

These Occasional Papers are part of a series edited by Allan Davidson. They have been published in small booklet form and are more substantial than the AHS Papers that have been distributed through the AHS Newsletters. These Occasional Papers are available for viewing and borrowing at Kinder Library, Saint John's College, Auckland.

Paper Six:

- Title: Dedicated Women: The Ministry of Lay Women in the Diocese of Wellington, 1945-1977.
- Author: Margaret Williamson. Edited by Janet Crawford.
- Published 2003
- ISSN: 1173-6755
- ISBN 0-9583528-5-2
- Description: This paper highlights the contribution of lay women to ministry in the Diocese of Wellington, something often largely overlooked in the writing of church history. The vital unsung voluntary work of women has helped sustain parishes. This paper recognises their involvement but also highlights the work of the Church Army sisters and paid lay women workers in the diocese. The publication is enriched by the personal stories of some of these women.